

Brookfield Library Film Series

The Time Traveler's Wife

A genuinely old-fashioned Hollywood romance with a science fiction angle, The Time Traveler's Wife stars Eric Bana as Henry DeTamble, a Chicago librarian with a genetic disorder causing him to travel through time involuntarily. The screenplay by Bruce Joel Rubin (My Life), based on a novel by Audrey Niffenegger, incorporates some of those crazy paradoxes that are a part of time-travel fiction, but without beating one over the head. Take Henry's introduction to his future wife, Clare (Rachel McAdams), who tells him they've already met even though they haven't actually met.

Rated PG-13. Running Time 107m.

Free Showing Saturday, February 14, 2010

2:00 p.m. – 4:00 p.m. in The Brookfield

Library Community Room.

182 Whisconier Road / www.brookfieldlibrary.org / 203-775-6241

Feel free to bring lunch and/or snacks!